How to Use This List

Read this page first

This is a simple, general healthy-eating shopping list built around the kinds of foods found in Mediterranean-style eating patterns: vegetables, fruit, whole grains, beans, nuts, olive oil, and fish. The Arthritis Foundation and many health organizations describe this style of eating as a sensible, balanced choice.

- Print it and take it to the store. Check off what you need this week.
- You don't need everything. Pick a few items from each section.
- Frozen and canned (low-sodium, no added sugar) count too. They can make shopping simpler.
- Swap freely for foods you like, can chew easily, and can afford.
- If you have a health condition, food allergies, or take medicines (for example, blood thinners), ask your doctor or a registered dietitian before big changes.

No single food supports your joints on its own. Overall eating habits, staying active, and a healthy weight matter most.
